

Inez Beverly Prosser, Ph.D.

1897 - 1934

Ph.D. Psychology, 1933
University of Cincinnati

Inez Beverly Prosser's research examined self-esteem and personality variables in African-American school children. She found that black children in learning situations with black peers and black teachers were better adjusted, had higher self-esteem and closer relationships with their families than their peers who attended integrated schools.